St. Louis Based Tech Company

NMBL Strategies was engaged to assess the financial condition of a St. Louis based Tech Company during a receivership that was struggling to define the ownership of the business. In addition to defining the future revenue potential, NMBL was responsible for forensic accounting to review the history of financial spending and support. Through this work, NMBL assisted in conciliating ownership interests of the business and has been enlisted to stay engaged after the completion of the receivership.

Empower Missouri

NMBL Strategies' consultants were retained to acheive the Interim Executive Director's duties to build structure and help realign the long-term mission of Empower Missouri. This work is designed to help the 119 year old organization take the next step and move their organization into a more strategic future.
